Lost and Found

The purpose of the Religion Department is to draw man closer to God. This is done in innumerable ways both large and small. The main way is through the religion class. The entire four year course represents a complete study of the faith, starting with the Ten Commandments and ending with a course in marriage. This is done so that by the time he graduates, the Holy Cross man will know what his religious obligations are. The good actions he does will enable him to be drawn closer to God. But the influence of the religion department extends far beyond the reach of the classroom. The lenten mite boxes contain the influence of the religion department. Every time a student deposits a coin, it is done because it is the result of some Christian training. It is the beginning of faith in action. The student is beginning to practice his faith more ardently. The religion department can only inform the students on religious matters, it can only encourage him to practice these teachings, but it is the student who must practice them. And when he does begin to put his faith to work for himself and others, the purpose of the religion department has been accomplished.

There never was a perfect language. Every language has its irregularities and incongruities. The older and more used it becomes, the more it changes. There is a need for a language which will never change, one which when reverted to will mean the same thing everytime. It will not change with the years as the other languages do. Such a language is Latin. For two thousand years scientists, doctors and historians have written in Latin in order to preserve their documents for posterity. These documents may be referred to in later years and the same idea will remain. But the high school student will wonder what this has to do with him. It is simple. The study of Latin gives the mind a sense of well balanced and correct thinking; it helps to increase the student's vocabulary and it gives him a taste of Roman life and culture. The first year of Latin is merely an introductory course. It gets the student acquainted with it. Just as Jason hunted for the golden fleece, the Sophomores continue their quest for golden knowledge by fighting with Caesar in Gaul. In the Junior year the student obtains a taste for better Latin as he helps Cicero defeat Catiline. The Senior year is the apex of Latin study. The fourth year Latin student wanders with Virgil, Martial, Horace and others through the world of Latin prose to climax a four year Latin course.

The desire in man to know the truth is great, and it is the aim of the English Department to fulfill this desire. This aim, to instill in the student an appreciation and enjoyment of certain literary qualities, is accomplished in many various ways.

The Freshman and Sophomore years are spent in the study of grammar, vocabulary and the bases of literary composition.

In the Junior and Senior year the student begins to study the various forms of American and English literature. This is brought about by class discussions, development of critical analysis, and creative writing. These discussions lead to intellectual curiosities which are fundamental to genuine appreciation of literature.

One of the prime goals of the English Department is to give the student training so that he may build for himself an outlet for his opinions, his ideas and for his criticisms. This department has for a goal the development, not of a skill, but of an instrument whereby the student can express himself, his beliefs, his theories, and his talents through creative writing.

It is to Brother John Joseph Donnelly, C.S.C., head of the English Department, that the supervision and fulfilling of these ideas has been entrusted.

But the English Department does not specialize in class rooms only. For those students who have a talent for dramatics, there is an opportunity to act in the annual fall play. This year's play, a comedy called "My Three Angels," was successful as a result of many hours of hard practice. For those with a speaking ability there is the Forensics Society which gives them a time to practice and display their talents.

There is also a reading course under the direction of Mr. Joseph Lipp which aids those students who are not proficient in their reading ability. This course prepares the student to complete his education and life on a more improved scale. Students who are in need of further improvement in their reading ability are encouraged to participate in this reading course.

The knowledge which the English Department plants in the mind of the student is of infinite value.

Brother Thomas Burns and his able assistant, Brother John St. Amand, are the two men in charge of the Holy Cross shop.

Under their direction the programs for the students is developed. There is a separate class for the Seniors and the Juniors who take the courses offered. These courses are available for the College Prep as well as the General sections. All phases of training in the industrial art departments is covered and the equipment varies from the finest precision lathes to the smallest of delicate hand tools.

Their primary purpose is to teach the students about the tools used in ordinary work and in industry; their name, function, and capability. Some of the courses of study offered to the men interested in shop are: printing, woodworking, sheetmetal, machinery, and home repairs. It is in these many fields that the men help out the school. The printing of the school paper, The Lance, is done by them as well as the tickets and programs for school activities, and other various forms needed by the school office.

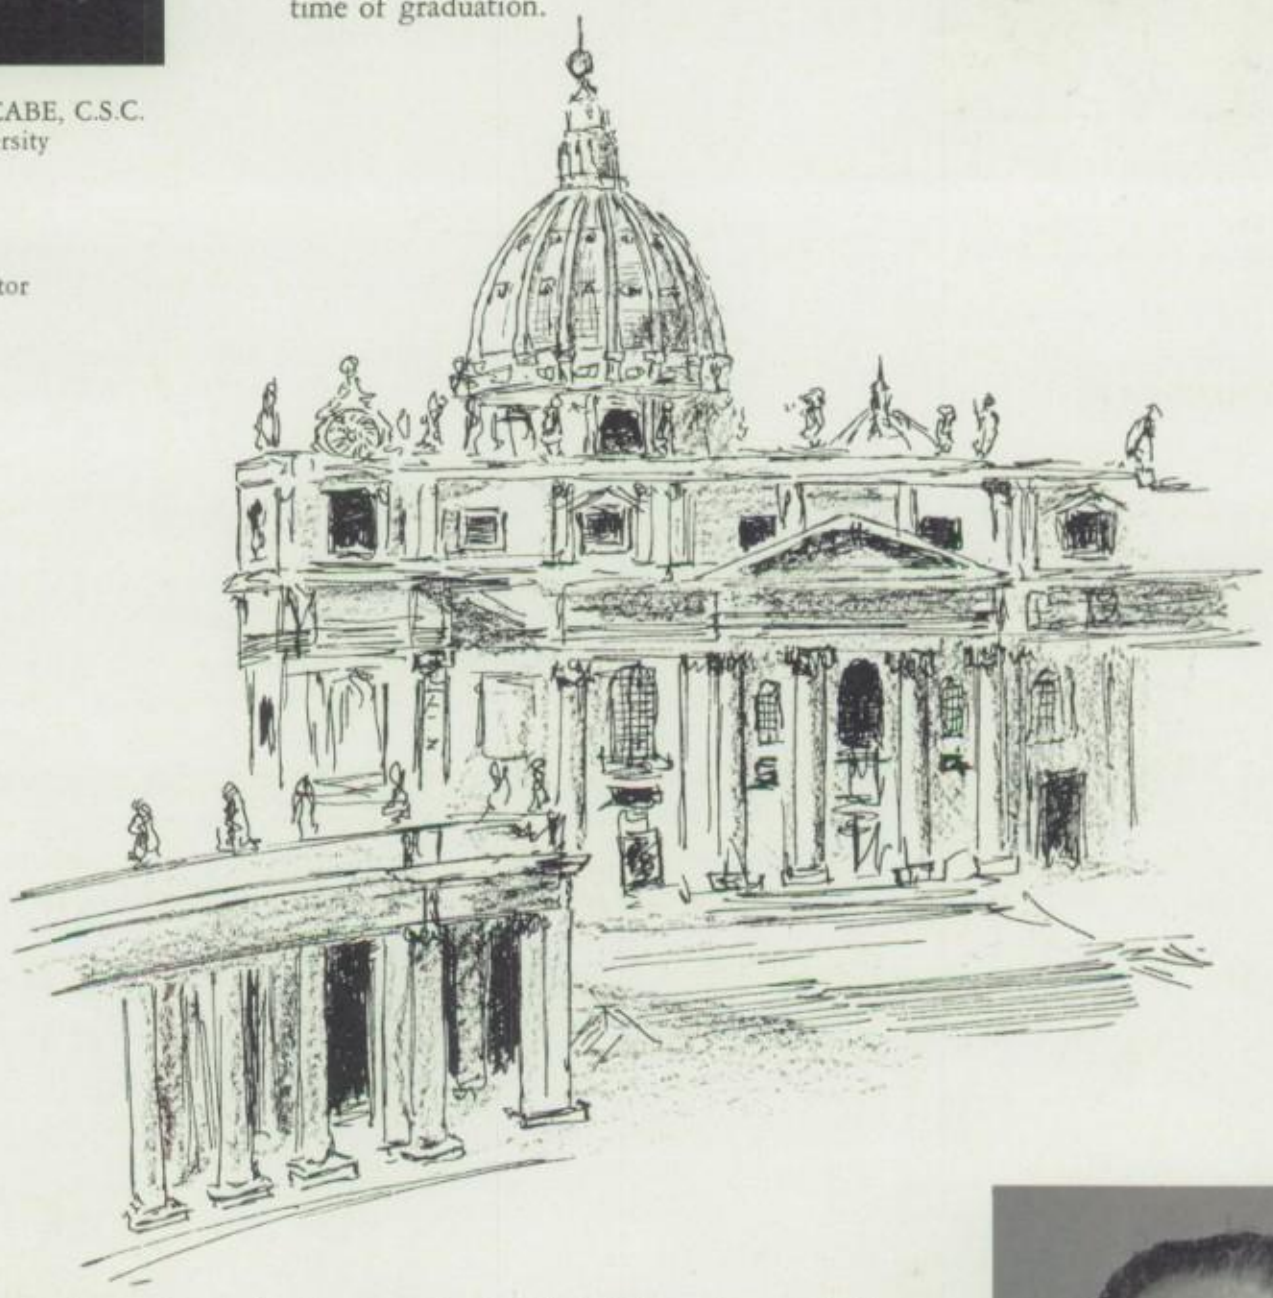
From the earliest of times there has been a most pressing need for the cultivation in the human mind of other tongues. Today, there is an even greater need. With the advancement in travel and communication, the world has grown smaller, hence the greater need for language fluency and variation.

Language is the expressive agent of emotion, love, hatred, courage, sorrow, and encouragement. Often the words spoken by some long deceased man spring to life in our contemporary language.

The two modern languages taught at Holy Cross are French and Spanish. These classes enjoy the erudite instruction of Brother Richard McDonald, C.S.C., and Brother Laurian La Forest, C.S.C., as well as that of Mr. Alberto Benavides and Brother Hugh McCabe, C.S.C. The students must have at least two years learning of the Latin tongue before entering these fields, hence they are fairly well supported in language by the time of graduation.



The primary purpose in the teaching of a language is the disciplining of a youthful mind and in this way enabling him to reason in any situation. The language itself, with all its many advantages, also serves a secondary purpose. The student is taught how to speak and write the language so as to prepare him for any possible future use of this tongue. Conversation is an art. By being able to converse with people in foreign languages, we increase this art within us.

These languages are also taught in high school in order to increase the understanding of customs and of the history of the country which is being studied. The only true method in which this can be completely accomplished is by the intensive study of the country.

"When God wrote the universe, He used the language of mathematics."

Galileo Galilei

Today, in our modern society, it is the rare individual who does not come into daily contact with some application of mathematics. While modern science triumphs by virtue of mathematics, technology has by no means been the sole concern of mathematicians.

When formal mathematics received its introduction by way of Euclid's writings, the realm of logic and philosophy in general, it was the beneficiary of an exact system of deductive reasoning. This influence of mathematics as a refined method of thought caused Galileo to remark: ". . . and believe me, if I were again beginning my studies, I would follow the advice of Plato and start with mathematics."

Along with this power of mathematics is the impressive majesty of mathematics. It has been said many times that to reduce mathematics to a system of reasoning applied to the natural universe, is to reduce a great work of art to paint and canvas. The field of pure (as distinguished from applied) mathematics transcends the limitations of logical forms and structures, and employs a high degree of imagination and intuition. It is this spirit of mathematics, a pursuit of beauty derived from reasoning, of which Bertrand Russel spoke when he said: "Mathematics, rightly viewed, possesses . . . supreme beauty—a beauty cold and austere, like that of sculpture, without appeal to any part of our weaker nature . . . yet sublimely pure, and capable of a stern perfection such as only the greatest art can show. The true spirit of delight, the exaltation, the sense of being more than man, which is the touchstone of the highest excellence, is to be found in mathematics as surely as in poetry."

From this rich heritage is derived the philosophy of the Holy Cross High School Department of Mathematics. The Algebra courses are designed to familiarize the students with mathematical techniques together with a geometry course and centered around the process of deductive reasoning. For the qualified students of senior year, a course in Elementary Calculus is offered, along with a Modern Mathematics course. Here the emphasis is placed on some of the advanced principles of mathematics.

It is the aim of the Mathematics Department to bring our students nearer the day when they may rejoice with the poet Lucretius:

"Happy is the man who, Studying nature's laws,
Through known effects can trace the secret cause."

The Holy Cross Mathematics Department under the direction of Mr. Michael Vinciguerra strives to instruct the student in these ideas. There are various courses offered in mathematics, starting with algebra in the Freshman year and ending with Calculus or Math twelve in the Senior year.

"The Challenge of Democracy" is the basic thread that ties together the various courses of history offered at Holy Cross. As Americans, we believe that all men should be free from the "shackles of despotism, ignorance and bigotry." We believe that the democratic way of life is the best way. Americans can best protect democracy by extending it to others. This "challenge of democracy" cannot be met unless we understand the goals of freedom. President Kennedy has said "Ask not what your country can do for you, ask rather what you can do for your country." Holy Cross history students are helping to keep America strong and safe by learning and understanding the basic truths of freedom.

The Holy Cross Social Science Department offers courses in World History, World Geography, United States History, and Problems in Democracy. In World History, students trace the growth and development of man from ancient times to the present. World Geography students gain a greater realization of the world around us, as well as studying the interaction of different economies. The birth and growth of our great nation is studied by United States History students. Problems of Democracy, a Senior elective, deals with the complex problems and procedures of modern government.

History is the pageant of mankind. In it are displayed all the triumphs and tragedies, successes and failures, virtues and vices of man. Through the study of history, Holy Cross students gain greater understanding of current problems, and thus are better prepared to accept the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship.

Business is one of the oldest occupations known to man, and it is one which will always exist as long as there are people who have goods to trade. The occupational choices which are offered to mankind are many. There are charts to draw, students to instruct, lands to cultivate, souls to save the businesses to run. As mankind ages, his struggle for existence becomes more intricate. The world of business offers innumerable fields of occupations.

Every phase of industry has some aspect of the business world attached to it. It is the primary purpose of the Holy Cross Business Department to prepare the student for his role in the business world. Under the direction of Brother George Hansen, the Business Department strives to instruct the student in the various courses of business. The classes which are offered at Holy Cross are: Business Arithmetic, Business Law, General Business, Typing, and two years of Bookkeeping. These courses are designed to prepare those students who might later enter the business world.

The modern society which inhabits the twentieth century is no doubt the most complex to have existed. Society grows and it is therefore necessary for the mind of man to grow with it.

Man on the moon, advances in medicine, the discovery of stronger and lighter materials, all these will some day be the result of tedious hours of study followed by innumerable hypotheses, experiments, failures and finally successes. The foundation for these advances is now being laid in a fundamental knowledge of secondary sciences. It is in high school that the seed is sown for the future scientists of America.

The Science Department of Holy Cross under the supervision of Brother John Houlihan, C.S.C., offers its students courses in Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and General Science. These courses are geared not only to give the student a basic concept of science but also to help him understand a little more about the world we live in.

In General Science the student receives a basic knowledge of the other sciences. Biology explores the various realms of life from the simple one-celled ameba to the most complex organism of man. The mysteries of matter and energy are unveiled in the Physics lab. A more complete understanding of the "ordinary things," such as light, sound, and electricity is thus acquired. Finally, Chemistry inquires into the chemical composition of the universe. A study of the different elements is gained through a course in Chemistry.

The knowledge of science and its application has fast become the criterion of successful and powerful nations. The student in today's fast paced world must have a more intense and broader knowledge of science. This need for knowledge is fulfilled by the Holy Cross Science Department.

Guidance at Holy Cross

". . . on the basis of your class standing, College Boards and average, the Board of Admissions has approved your application . . ."

The above statement is the acknowledgment of four successful years of study. It is the result of numerous hours of study and test taking. It is also a tribute to the work of the Guidance Department.

The Guidance Department, under the supervision of Brother Germanus Burns, C.S.C., engineers the preparation for college acceptance. It is the advise of Brother Germanus that seniors seek concerning entrance requirements, course qualification and the college that best suits their needs.

Every fall the Guidance Department invites various colleges to the annual College Night. This affords the seniors an opportunity to interview college representatives and gain "first-hand" knowledge of different colleges.

In the preparation for college the work of the Guidance Department can never be under-estimated and the seniors will never forget their indebtedness to Brother Germanus for his invaluable assistance.

"Every man is the painter and sculptor of his own life."

St. John Chrysostom

Etched on a marble plaque in the front of the school the above quotation reminds the Holy Cross students that it is "up to them" to make a success of their lives. This success is not measured in terms of wealth, power or popularity but rather whether or not they reach heaven.

The purpose of going to a Catholic High School is to help the student make a success of his life. There are at Holy Cross a varied number of religious activities which bring the student a few steps closer to his final goal.

Foremost among these activities are the retreats; at school and at Valatie. The closed retreat at Valatie provides a weekend "away from it all" to get reorientated on the real goal of life. During mid-term recess there is a school retreat which affords the student an opportunity to forget the books and think only of God.

Two new innovations during the past school year have brought the student still closer to God. These new activities are centered in the religious heart of the school, the chapel. The Senior Rosary on Friday morning and an 8:00 Mass on First Fridays have brought the fact home to a great number of students that their Final Goal lives within the school.

At Holy Cross students are truly aided in the "painting and sculpturing" of their lives.

C.S.M.C.

The most recent addition to the extracurricular activities at Holy Cross is the organization of a local unit of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade. A nationwide program for secondary school students, the C.S.M.C. is organized to bring financial and spiritual aid through a unified and large scale effort to the missions throughout the world. This is to be accomplished in three ways: the prayers of every member, offered daily to the missions; financial and spiritual sacrifice on the part of each member; instruction and study of the activities and needs of the missions.

The Holy Cross unit, complete with its own charter and constitution, was initiated by Brother Hugh McCabe. The student body responded by an enthusiastic turnout at the first general meeting. Acting officers were elected and the unit began work at once on a long list of money-making projects. Among those already begun were the sponsoring of a record hop, a stamp drive, and a paperback book drive. All proceeds, as well as membership dues, went to the missions. Thanks to the generosity and willing co-operation of the students, the Holy Cross Mission Unit cannot fail as an active, efficient, and beneficial organization.

Biology Club

For the last three years the Holy Cross Biology Club has met with greater and greater success. In the first year of its existence it started out with a meager handful of members. In the second year, membership rose to fifteen students. But this year the Biology Club boasts of seventy members and a new record of twenty meetings in the first semester alone with more on the way.

Under the able direction of Brother Paul Rahaim, the Biology Club is now attempting to develop an interest in science into the Holy Cross student. Numerous school activities have been put into operation by the club including our new science movie theater which has opened its doors to any student interested in science. This year the Club has several exhibitions in the New York State Science Fair as well. Besides these there are other class projects which the members may take on independently or in groups after school. Some of these include the study of tropisms, animal behavior, germination, and suspended animation.

We of the CROSS staff wish continued good fortune to next year's Biology Club and to those who follow it.

The Cross of 1962

This year's CROSS is the 4th edition of the book. Under the guidance of Brother Arthur Hannaway, C.S.C., and Brother Nicholas Piano, C.S.C., the Assistant Moderator, this year's CROSS staff began work on the book in October. The core of the staff was small but it functioned effectively. The putting together of a book in time to meet three deadlines was not easy. The staff showed up on Saturdays and frequently worked late during the week. But the yearbook wasn't always work. The members of the staff enjoyed themselves also. There was a certain joy in completing pages and having them approved. But there was also a certain frustration in trying to arrange another page.

Everyone has his work cut out for him and there was plenty of it. There were write-ups to assign, layouts to draw, captions to write and more. However, all of this is complete and the book is finished.

The Lance

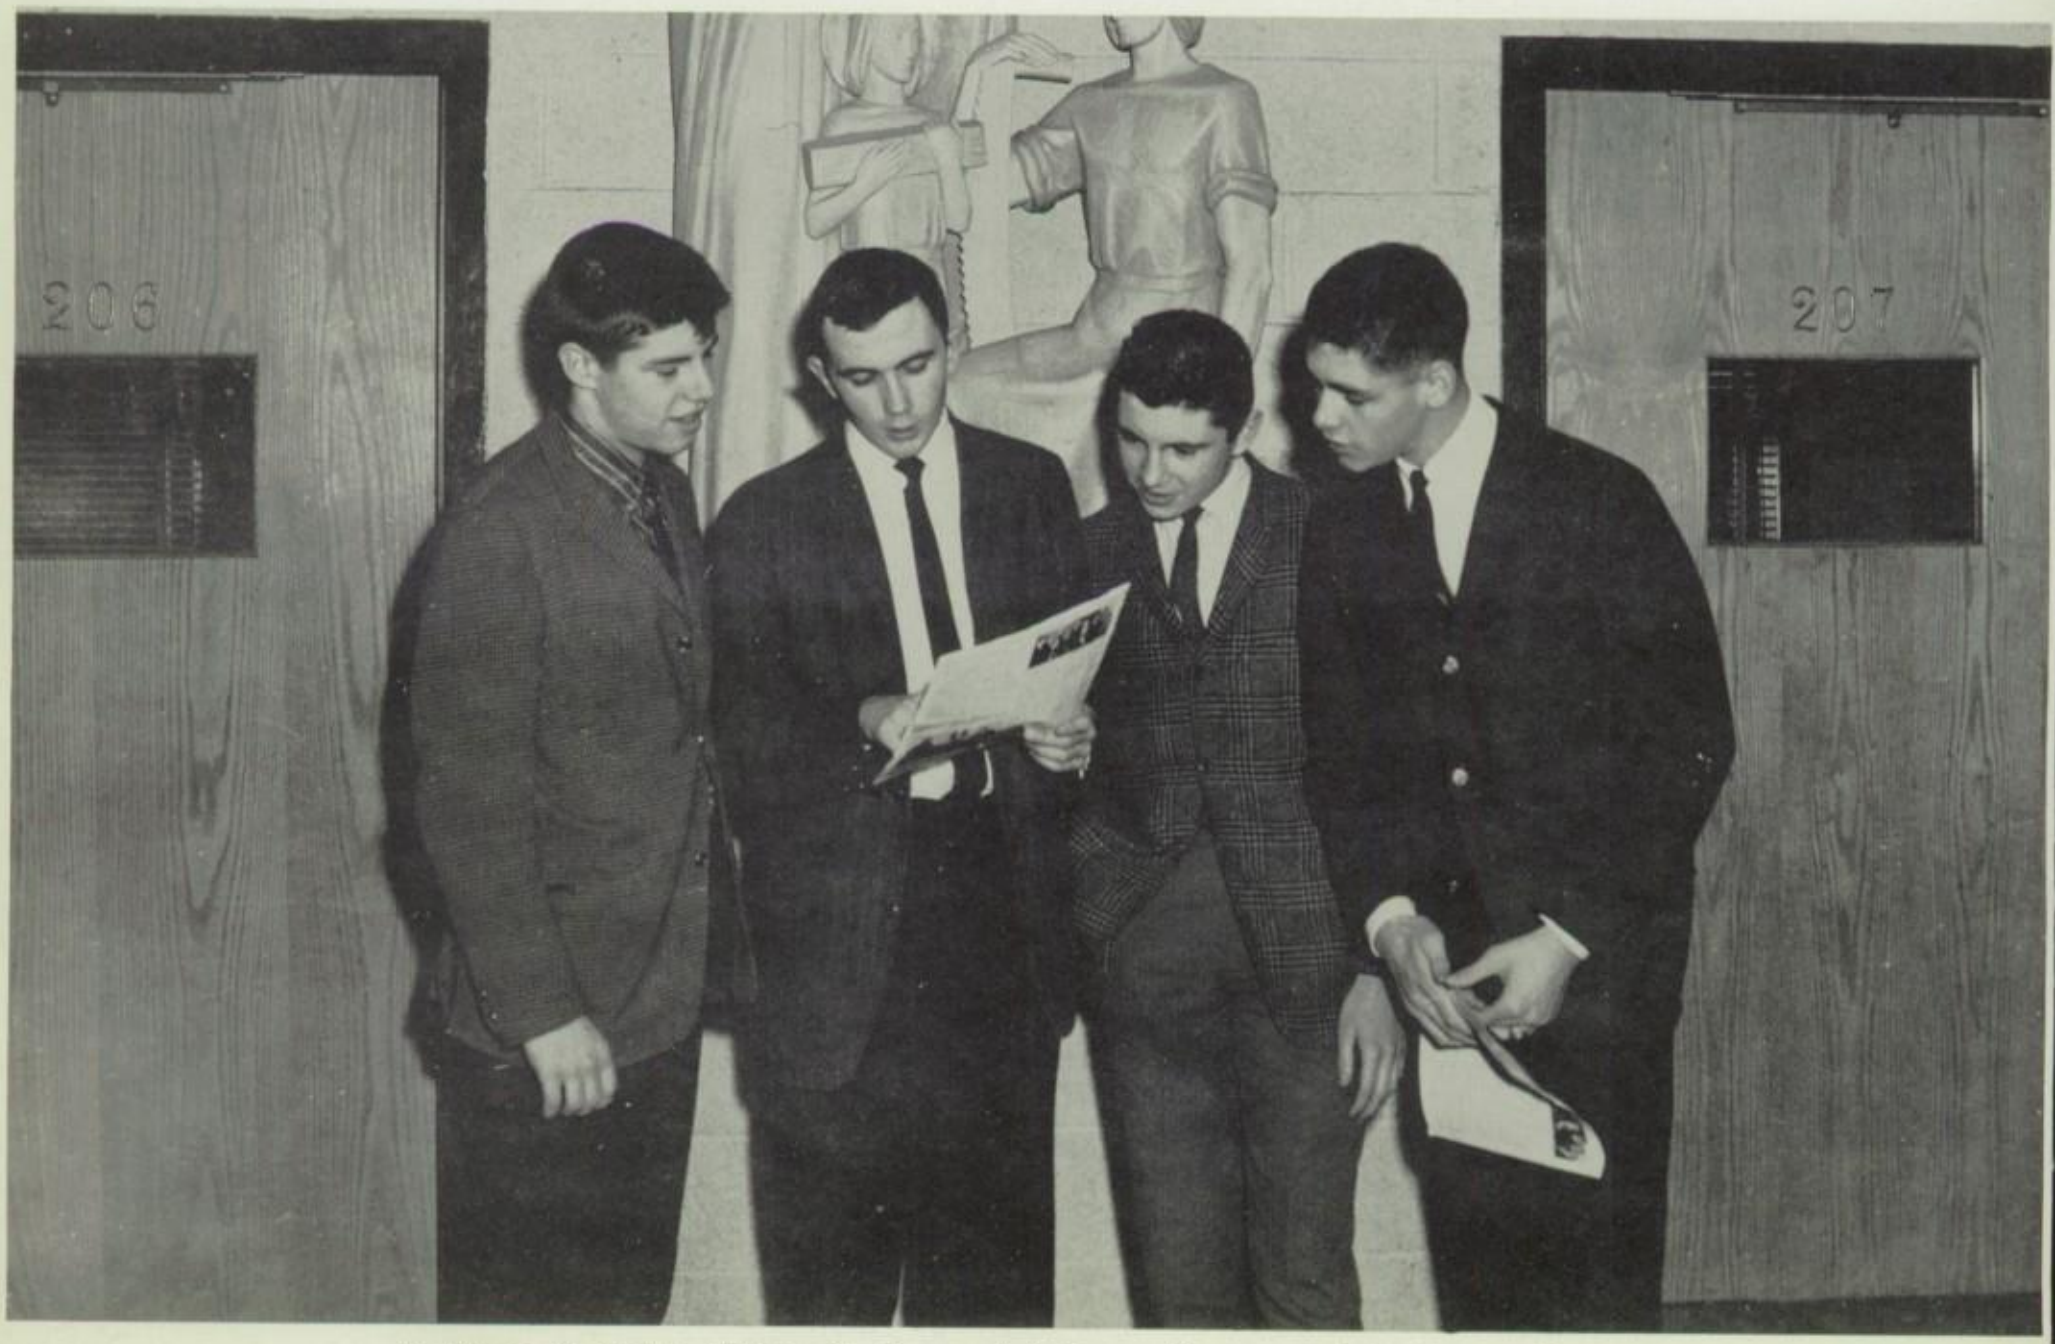
At least once during every school year Holy Cross receives public recognition for the accomplishments of its student body. This year it was our phenominal basketball team and our orator, Anthony Pepe, who brought Holy Cross into the local spotlight. Nowhere do these Knights receive "higher billing" than in the LANCE.

The six issues of the LANCE that you receive are the result of many sedulous hours of work on the part of student reporters, typists, photographers, and printers.

The work that goes into publishing the LANCE is done in three phases. First; in and around the school, at various athletic events and social activities. Here the reporters and photographers find the raw material for their articles and pictures. While reporters write about the activities in the school, our photographers "catch" the Knights in various candid shots. The fruits of their labors are sent to the Publications office, where these articles are typed and proofread while the photographs are being cropped and captioned. From there, the articles and pictures are shipped to the engravers. When they are received back the format of the paper is "laid-out" and everything is then sent to the print shop. Here the third phase of the paper is begun. Bro. Thomas and his student printers transfer the articles and pictures onto the paper that you read. But the work is not finished yet. The finished product is then put into the hands of the exchange editors R. Dormer, J. Fenn, and M. Cryon, who distribute them to you.

We would like to thank the LANCE staff, under moderator Bro. Donald Kaufold and Bro. Hugh McCabe, and also Bro. Thomas Burns and his student printers for keeping the student body up-to-date on the activities of the school.

John Larrere is hard at work typing the articles for the next Lance.



R. Dormer, M. Scanlon (Editor), M. Cryan, and J. Fenn confer on one of the Lance articles.

In relation to service rendered to the school, the photography department ranks close to the top. Brother John Capistran and Brother Marvin Sawner are the moderators to whom we should give the credit. Under their leadership, the members of this department learn the proper techniques in taking and processing photographs. Armed with their cameras, the members of the Camera Club can be seen throughout the school taking photographs for the different departments. Sports, dances, plays, and musicals are all within their range. These pictures are developed in the Holy Cross darkroom, and may be seen as you glance through this book.

The Cross Staff and the Lance Staff are greatly indebted to the Photography Department for the invaluable assistance they have rendered to us.

Library Staff

After a year's absence, Brother Franciscus Willet, C.S.C., returned to Holy Cross to resume the duties of Librarian. Brother has brought with him many new ideas which have bettered the library and the students. One of the most popular additions to the library has been the pocket shelf which makes available to the students the classics and modern literature in the pocket book form.

In the library can be found the knowledge of the ages and the hopes of the future. The mind of man, clearly expressed and concisely compiled in books has always been and will always be of the greatest importance to the intellectual development of mankind. It is with this principle in mind that Brother Franciscus and the student librarians are working hard to provide the Holy Cross man with the tools of learning.

Forensics

Under the watchful eyes of Mr. Joseph Lipp and Mr. Richard Schiliro, the Forensics Society has reached new heights. A good performance was the rule in other years but due to the hard work of the directors this year's performance was exceptional. It is obvious that the members worked. Just take a look at the record. Almost every afternoon these men can be seen working hard perfecting their techniques for the coming contests. Senior members took time out from their practice to explain the various intricacies of the Catholic Forensic League to the incoming freshman and sophomore members. The many hours spent on the speeches were not in vain. Against such formidable schools as the Mary Louis, St. John's Prep, Xavierian and St. Agnes, the team came out in front more than once. The trophies, medals and plaques won during these contests have become so numerous that the Society has thought of getting a larger trophy case. In any event, the team and the moderators deserve credit for the great work they have done; both for the Society and the school.

Brother John Joseph Donnelly, C.S.C., shares a joke with Senior Class President of '61 Austin Burns and his date.

A Summer Evening

The final social event of the Class of 1961 was their Senior Prom which was held in our gymnasium. The theme of the prom was a summer evening, and it was one which abounded with pleasure, rest, and entertainment for all. The decorations were natural and real, and the band was good. All in all, it was the final social event which marked the end of four years of higher education here at Holy Cross.

SENIOR BOOK DAY

Looking almost as confused as the newly-arrived freshmen, the members of this years senior class surveyed the imposing variety of textbooks carefully laid out for them on senior book day by Brother Francis Regis and his army of assistants. Yet even as they made preparations for studies, the seniors realized that this was to be the last of those golden years, growing years, going years, as students at Holy Cross. Soon each would go his own way, secure in the knowledge that during his four years at HCHS he had received the intangible, but hard-won, gift of a Catholic education.

FOOTBALL RALLY

Each year at the beginning of the football season the students and faculty of Holy Cross in cooperation with the football team, band, and cheerleaders stage a rally to introduce the new season. This is an integral part of life at Holy Cross and a source of enjoyment to all. It is here we meet the men who represent the school on the gridiron and in the stands. Jim Klein, Senior Class President, welcomed the four classes to this rally and explained its purpose. He introduced the team, his fellow co-captain and the coaches. As each team member was introduced the audience, led by the amplified voices of the cheerleading squad, bolstered them on.

The highlight of the assembly was the presentation of the football used in last years Flushing-Holy Cross game to Don Lanthrop. Don has been helping the Holy Cross Athletic Department since its beginning.

After several more cheers and some music from the band, the assembly closed.

Under the direction of Brother Renatus Foldenauer, C.S.C., who came to Holy Cross in September of 1959, the band attained the prominent position which it holds here at Holy Cross as well as in the area. The band has led many an activity as well as giving the students school spirit; surely the presence of the school band at the gridiron has often given the team the incentive to play a terrific game. Besides playing at the games and pep rallies the Band has also provided musically good evenings to all who attended the Christmas and the spring concerts. To testify to the good work and superiority of the band for the school year of 1961-62, both Felix Acevedo and Joseph Lyons were selected to the exclusive All-State Band and Orchestra. The band is the school activity which has contributed so much to the spirit and the life of Holy Cross; we can all be proud of this band and of Brother Renatus who has given so much of his time at developing a band in which we can all be proud.

Stage Crew

The elaborate home of Felix Ducotel appeared in "My Three Angels."

The drag strip of the Wildcats, as well as their cars, was made possible by the crew.

Enthusiasm reigned high this year at Holy Cross High School due to the tremendous successes of MY THREE ANGELS and THE KING AND I. We attribute much of the successes to the wonderful work of Brother Arthur O'Brien's stage crew. This group of boys work diligently throughout the year building sets and changing scenery during the school performances. Since the stage crew is always behind the scenes few people realize the time and effort that go into the making of the different sets. Besides, Brother Arthur O'Brien and Brother John Houlihan, the assistant moderator, keep the boys hopping whenever they try to relax. Among the numerous other activities of the stage crew are the setting up of the altar for student Masses and setting the stage for the Women's Guild and Father's Club meetings.

Much credit should be given to the Stage Crew as one of the hardest working groups in the school.

Whatta Blast!

Determined to produce a spring musical both appropriate and appreciable to the audience, Brother James Madigan came up with an original, lively comedy about teenagers, named aptly "Whatta Blast." The show sparkled with the vigor and humor of a very large cast, made up of students from Holy Cross and girls from the nearby schools.

The theme of the show was the madhap, mirth-filled rise of Colonel J. J. Jackson to the governorship. Due to the well-intended but backfiring help of his teenage daughter and her gang, of hot-rodding cohorts, the Wildcats, he very nearly misses his mark. But justice prevails and with luck, chance, and good fortune J. J. wins the election.

The performances were great; the music, adapted from a number of current Broadway musicals, was well-chosen and well-done; the laugh volume was in high gear. A triumph for Brother James and the devoted members of the cast!

The dancers make a dry run of one of the intricate dance routines required for the success of the production.

Quizzed by Kelly and Inra, John Barbone gives the facts and just the facts.

My Three Angels

In the annals of Holy Cross Student Theatre, the fall production of My Three Angels must go down as one of the most successful and uproarious productions ever presented. A hilarious comedy, it concerned itself with the misadventures of three roguish (but lovable) convicts in French Guinea. Allowed to spend Christmas Eve in the home of a merchant (Robert Levey), our heroes decided to repay his charity in kind. It seemed that the rather incompetent shopkeeper was in danger of losing his job, as his fiery-tempered boss (Jim Connolly) seemed bound to fire him. Further, the shopkeeper's daughter (Joan Schildnecht) was in love with the boss' son (John Barbone), who was a first class rat. The effective (though rather unorthodox, to say the least) ways in which these and other problems were handled by the "angels" made for a laugh-filled evening.

The three angels were aptly portrayed by Martin Inra, Kevin Kelly, and Fred Honerkamp. Mary Ann Vesey as the merchant's wife, Joanne Percoco as the scatter-brained shopper, and Louis Ollarek as the young lieutenant all gave excellent performances. My Three Angels was ably directed by Brother John Joseph Donnelly and Brother Hugh McCabe.

Marty Inra is shocked by J. Connolly's insinuation that he has been fixing the books.

Christmas in Paris

An evening to be remembered for the class of '63 was December 28th, the date of this year's gala Junior Prom. The theme of the Prom, "Christmas in Paris," was displayed through the talents of the hard-working decorations committee. Both the gym and the cafeteria became Parisian avenues lined with sidewalk cafes and adorned with glittering Yule trees and decorations.

Catered to at table with refreshments supplied by Brother Harold, and dancing to the sparkling strains of Mal Galetta's orchestra, the gallant knights and their lovely ladies were treated to the results of many long hours of industrious preparations. Brother Arthur O'Brien, Junior moderator, and Jim Ryan, general chairman, worked incessantly with Bill Gomez, John Suess, Jack Guzzi, Jim Kalletta, and their respective committees to make the event the total success it turned out to be.

The result of the decorating committee's work just before the Prom.

The members of this year's Junior class seem to be enjoying themselves at their first formal at Holy Cross.

Junior Class

As most Juniors know, the third year of high school is a time to face reality. It is a time to start preparing for college, to face up to physics, math, and the languages. It is a time for scholastic work, but it is also a time to enjoy the fruits of the junior year of high school.

During the course of the junior year the typical Junior at Holy Cross experiences the thrills of numerous dances. two of which were sponsored by the Junior Class, and the excitement of football and basketball games.

Looking back the Junior at Holy Cross recalls the change from an underclassman to an upperclassman and the switch from easy subjects to comparatively difficult subjects. But, most of all, he remembers that he is a part of the class of 1963.

On February 21, a square dance was held for the Sophomore Class. The evening was a success and the students enjoyed themselves. The night was complete with a caller and square dance music. It was another successful knight-out.

Sophomore Class Officers and Representatives

In keeping with their name, given to them because of their entrance into Holy Cross last year with "A Storm Called Donna," the "Hurricane Class" of '64 has thus far given the school quite an impression of themselves.

Everywhere you look—the Varsity Football Team, Debate team, Swimming team, and Track team —the Photo Club, Biology Club, Stage crew, Band and many more; yes everywhere you look—you find the sophomores. It is apparent that they realize just what Holy Cross holds available to them; besides a fine education, and they are ready and willing to make the most of it.

Life at Holy Cross would not be complete unless the freshmen were treated to a taste of school spirit. On October 13, 1961, the Freshman Bunco Party was held for the class of '65. True to the form of their predecessors they were a little baffled by the goings on—Holy Cross men and Brothers shooting dice? The answer was yes and, as the saying goes, "If you can't lick them, join them," they started right in.

This year's "shindig" was under the direction of Brother Robert Gilroy and proved to be a most enjoyable one. Prizes were awarded to those who had won the most games of "bunco." Basketball sets, fishing rods, baseballs, a Holy Cross jacket, and many other types of equipment were the source of merriment for the lucky ones. Even the losers had a good time because, as everybody knows—All you can eat—is quite an invitation.

A selection of some of Walt Disney's best cartoons were to the enjoyment of all those in attendance, including the Brothers.

According to all the records, the evening was a big success—so—if you are in a doubting mood just ask any freshman, or better still, just take a look at the six pictures surrounding this article. A picture tells a story, and you don't have to know Hieroglyphics to translate this one.

Father McGuiness, O.P., an old friend of Holy Cross, seems to be mildly interested in the goings on of the Freshman Bunco party. Father never misses a year to be with the Freshmen at their first Holy Cross event.

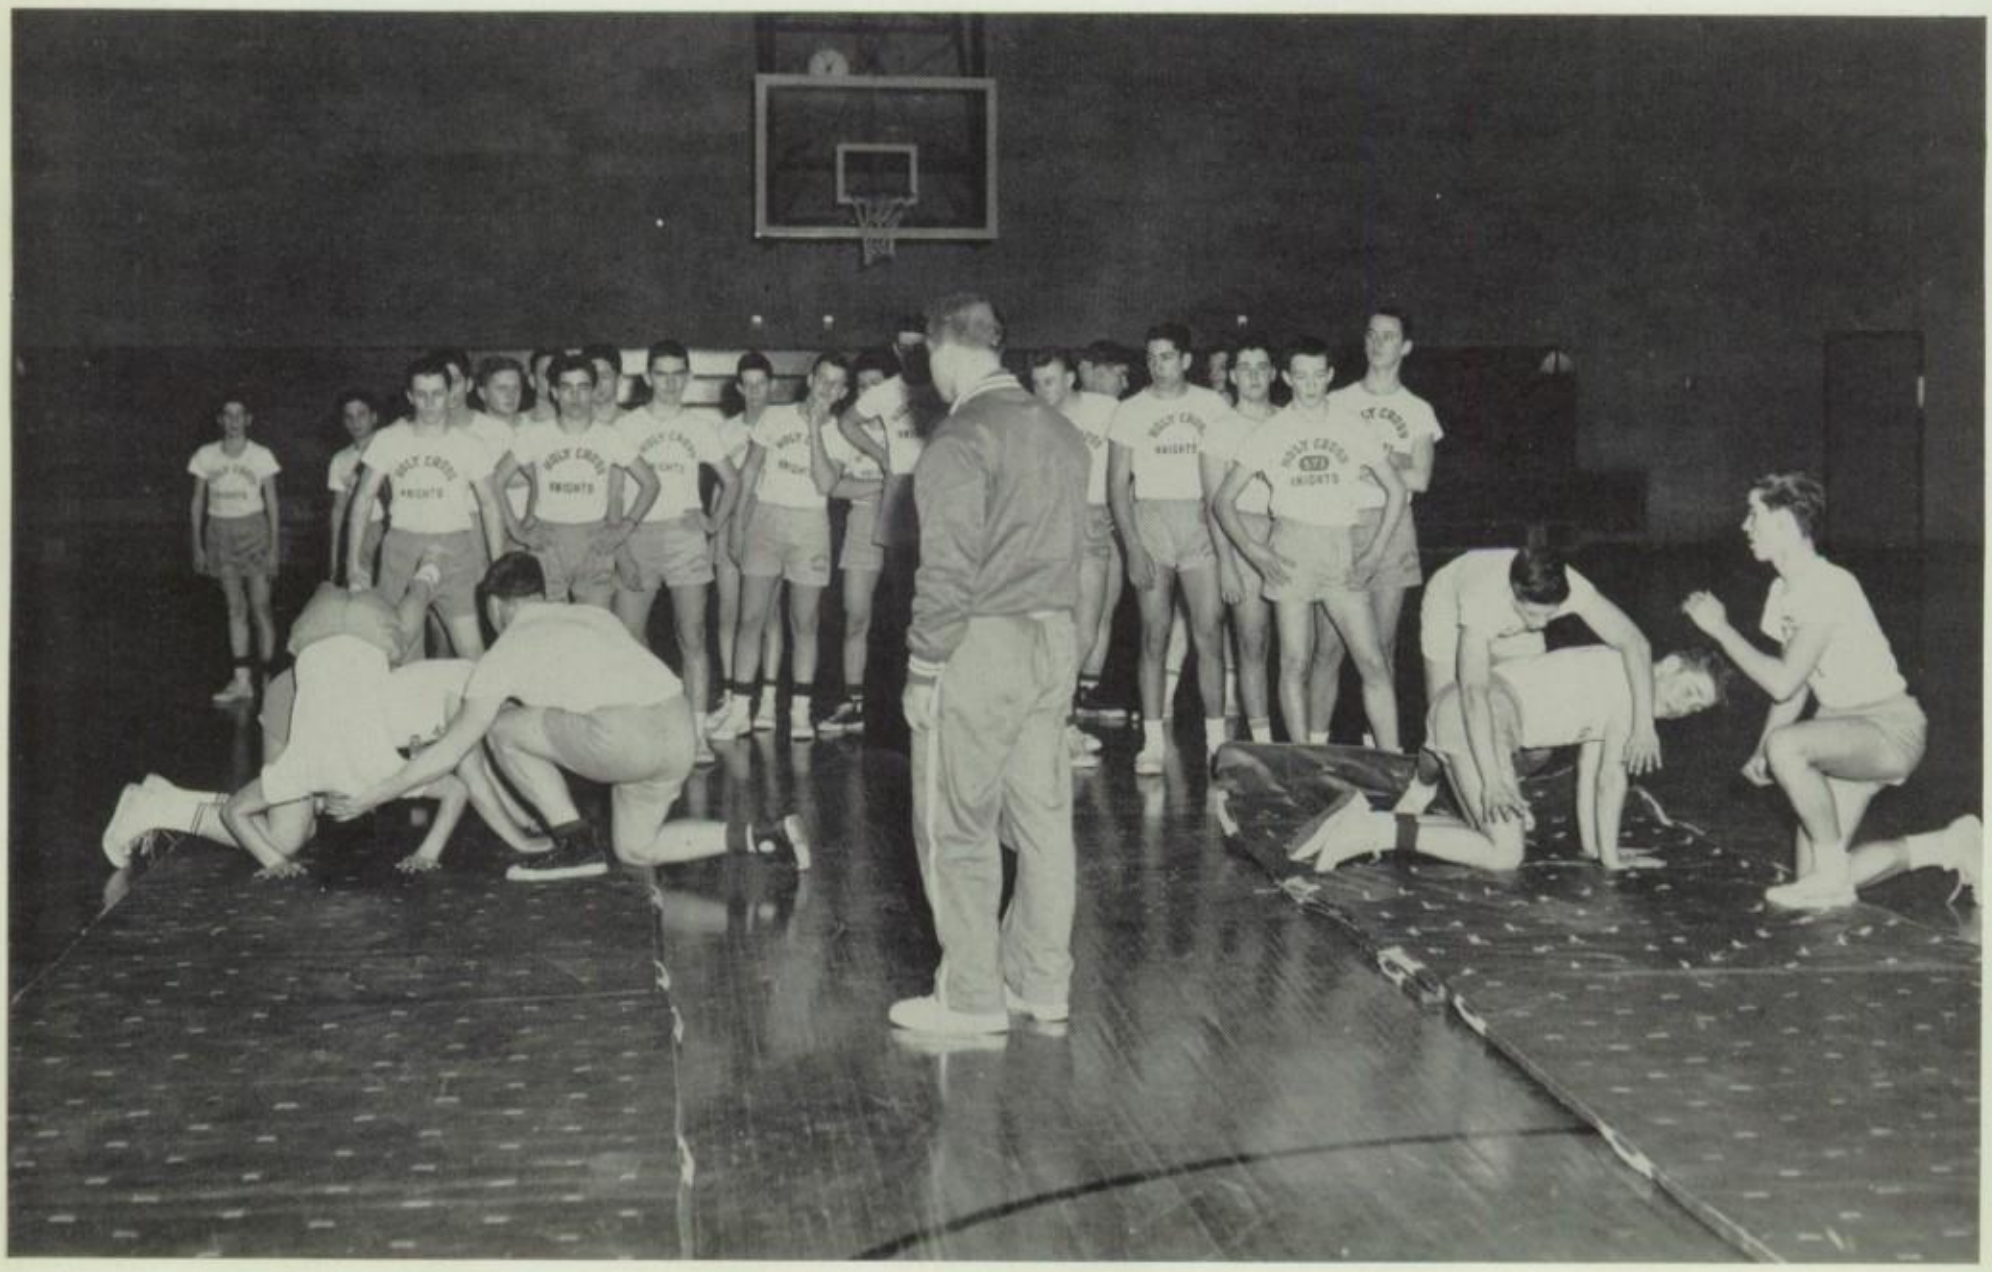
Physical Education

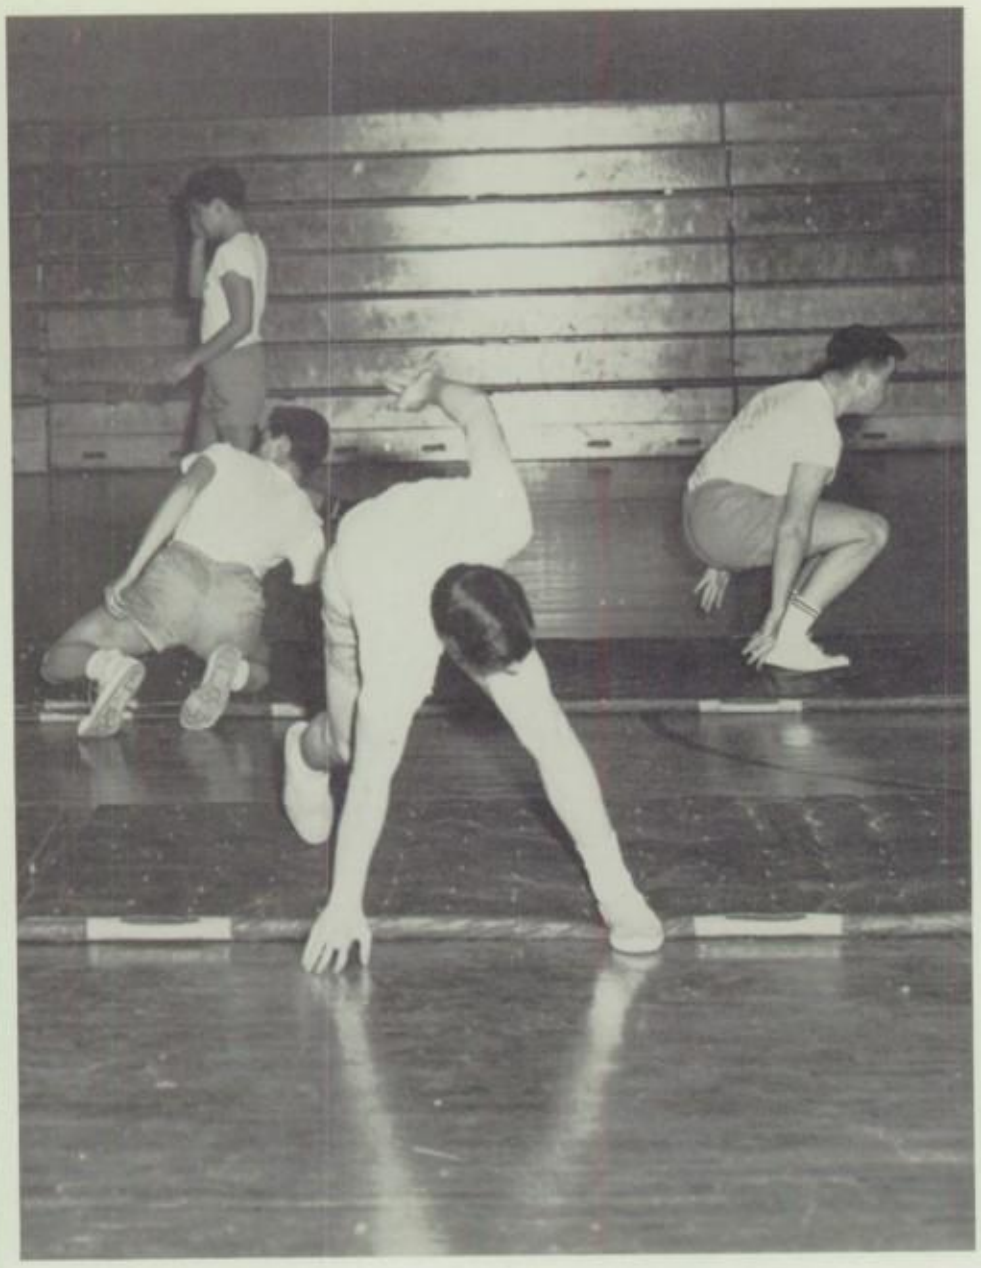
The teen years are a preparation, a training for every man towards a sound and useful adult life. During the high school years especially both mind and body must be "tuned" as it were, to their environment, for this is the time of maturation from child to adult. The Christian education received at Holy Cross includes, then, not merely the intellect, but the body too, the instrument through which the intellect is enabled to act.

With this in mind the faculty at Holy Cross assures the supervised exercises so important to the student. A mandatory part of the Freshman and Sophomore curriculum are the two gym periods each week. Upperclassmen have the use of the gym at any time after school when it is not being used for some other purpose.

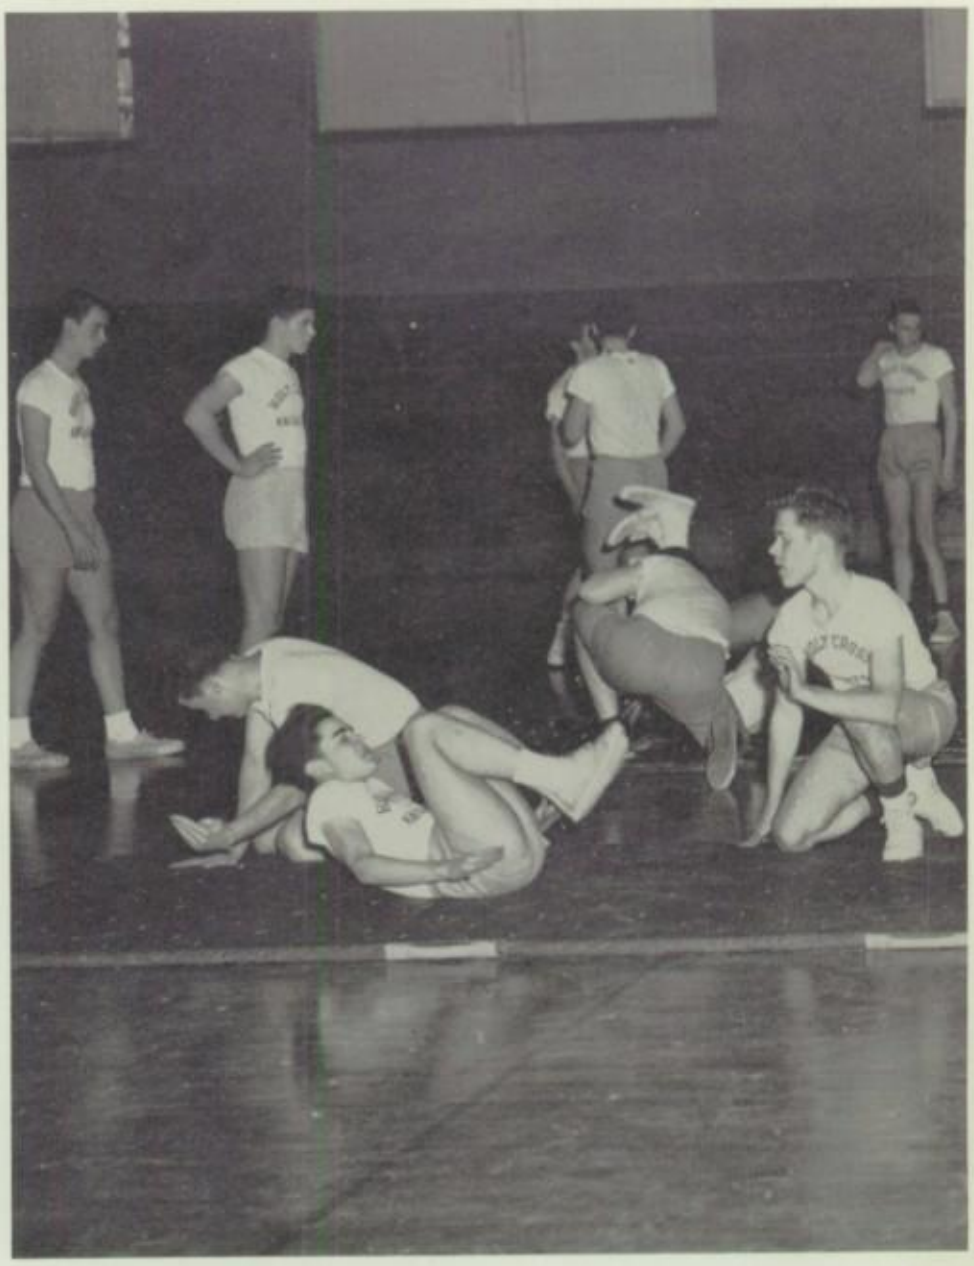
A welcome addition to the already well-supplied gym was the assortment of gymnastic equipment including parallel bars, vaulting horses, rings, and climbing ropes. During the winter months, basketball, volleyball, wrestling, and tumbling are the favorite exercises in the free-play periods. With the arrival of spring the outdoor handball and tennis courts, track, and ball field are crowded with the eager and active underclassmen. Organized calisthenics are conducted for a portion of each gym period under the supervision and encouragement of the instructors.



Mr. Maiolo's gym class goes through the various forms of physical training.

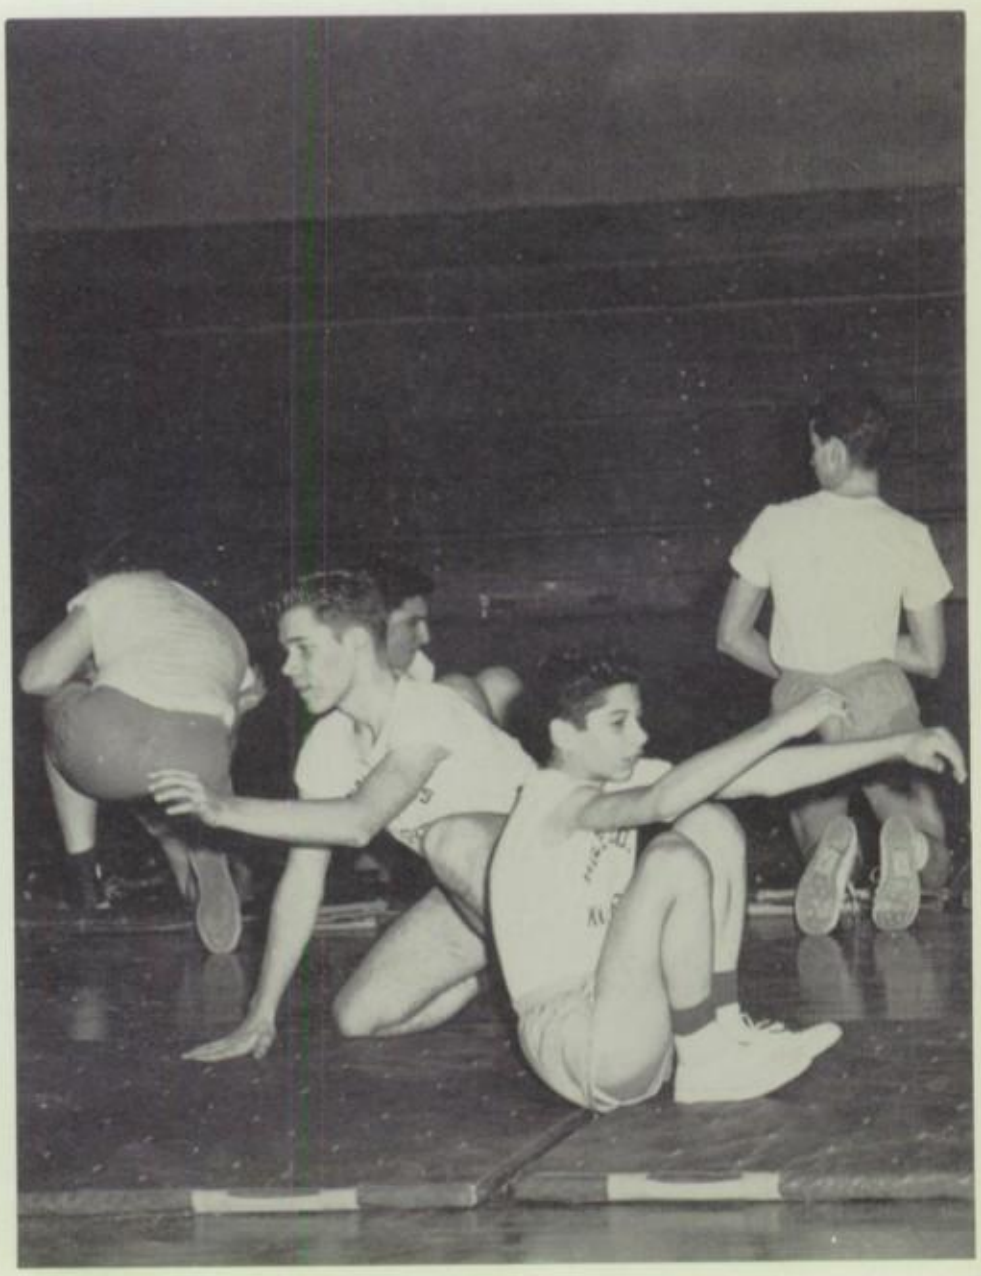


A perfect three point landing.



No! No! You're supposed to land on your feet!

Don't worry, I'll catch you!



Students show how it is done.

This year at Holy Cross seems to bring with it a revival of school spirit as we evidenced by the large numbers in attendance at the games.

Without the Band at our assemblies what would they be like? We the students wish to extend our thanks to Brother Renatus for his cooperation in making our assemblies and rallies a thing to be remembered.

Brother Richard MacDonald, Dean of Men, insures us of an orderly dismissal after each and every pep rally.

Senior Dan Abatelli does a "take-off" on the school spirit of an opposing team as Jim Klein gives some last minute instructions.

This year the Holy Cross Cheerleaders were under the able direction of Brother Harold Miller. Backed by the school spirited senior class they made their presence known at our games and assemblies

HOLY CROSS 6 — MT. ST. MICHAEL 12

It was a tough team to start the '61 season off with, but the Holy Cross squad was in top physical condition and had done well in pre-season games. The Mount scored early on a first quarter drive, but was held easily until the half. The ball passed evenly from team to team until early in the fourth quarter when Holy Cross went across for the score. We narrowly missed the extra two points but managed to tie it up. Later in the same quarter, the Mount came back to score again. It was a close, well fought game.

HOLY CROSS 0 — STEPINAC 6

The second week of action on the gridiron also proved to be a heartbreak for Holy Cross against a big Stepinac team. As in the first game, Stepinac scored in the first half on a pass pattern. The score in this game was not indicative, however, of how Holy Cross played. Except for the one touchdown Holy Cross displayed excellent offensive and defensive tactics.

Six other senior players take time out from practice to get their pictures taken.

Who dropped that quarter?

HOLY CROSS 0 — HAYES 20

This seemed to be the game Holy Cross could pull out of the bag, but due to a few bad breaks in Hayes territory, Holy Cross dropped the game. A pass interception, a bad pass from center and a kick-off return, were the three mistakes which decided the game.

HOLY CROSS 6 — ST. FRANCIS 6

Every year St. Francis produces a good team, and every year Holy Cross proves to be a stiff competitor. This season St. Francis scored early in the first quarter on a kick-off drive. Holy Cross came right back in the second quarter and scored on a long drive. Both teams fought hard and the game ended in a tie. The Holy Cross defense was outstanding, however, and proved this beyond a doubt in the game.

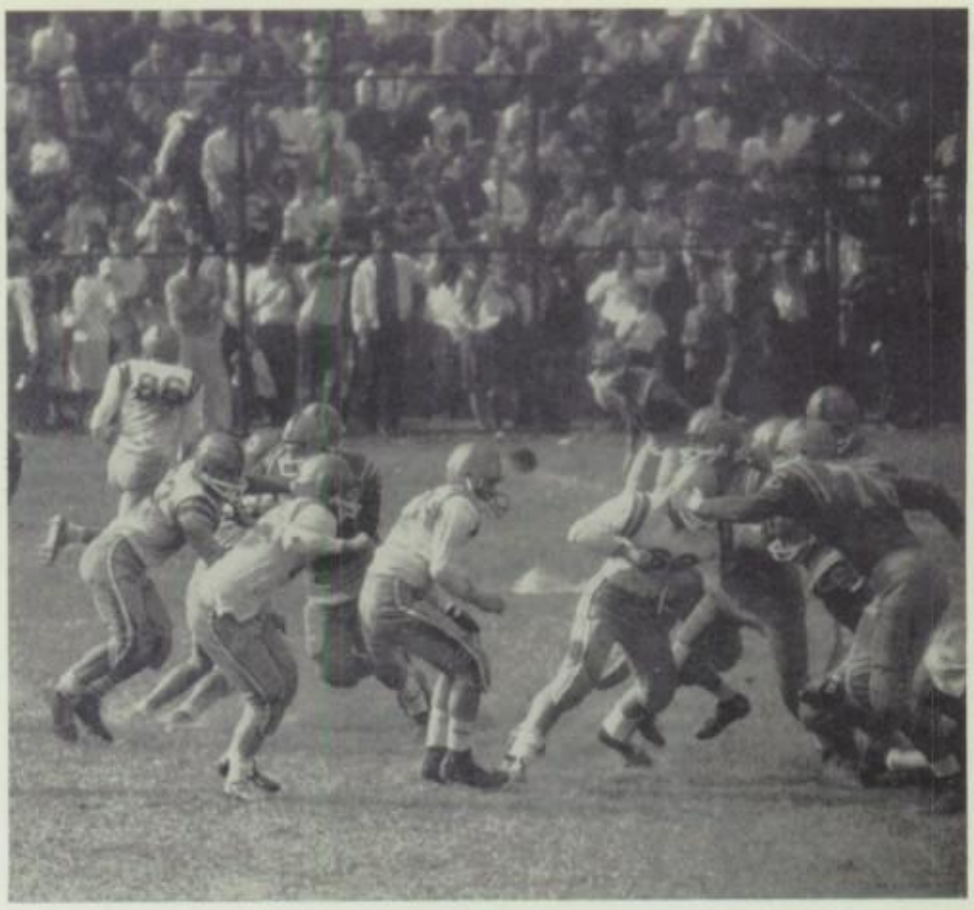
HOLY CROSS 13 — FORDAM 7

The Holy Cross Knights took a thriller from Fordam Prep in the last minute and fifteen seconds of play.

Late in the second quarter John Cronin recovered a Fordam fumble and in the closing seconds of the half Joe Davis blasted over the line for a score.

The second half in the main saw a defensive battle take place. With fifteen seconds left to play the ball was taken over the line securing for Holy Cross their first victory of the year.



John Luzon (7) goes around a Mount tackler as the line holds.

HOLY CROSS 8 — IONA 26

The Holy Cross Knights fresh from a victory over Fordam Prep, were stunned by an aggressive Iona Prep football team. The bright part of the day for Holy Cross came when Tom Murray completed a 71-yard touchdown play.

The team piles up on an opposing team's quarterback for a no-gain.

A lineman's view of the "Charging Knights"—only for the opposing team—no smiles.

HOLY CROSS 0 — CHAMINADE 16

In the first half the Flyers drove repeatedly into Holy Cross territory only to lose the ball on downs or on a fumble.

For a while it looked like Holy Cross might pull the upset of the year until midway in the third quarter. In all the Holy Cross ball club handled themselves very well against the C.S.A.L. champions.

Efforts of enemy blockers are to no avail as two Knights down an opposing man.

HOLY CROSS 19 — FLUSHING 13

In the annual Thanksgiving Day Classic the Holy Cross Knights upset the Flushing Red Devils in the last few minutes of the game. Tom Murray, a Holy Cross Senior, carried the ball over the goal line giving Holy Cross the game and the Queens Scholastic Football Champions award. Things didn't look good for either team at the outset, but the Knights spirited on with the support of many Holy Cross fans, fought hard and brought home a victory for Holy Cross.

Our hats are off to the coaches and the team for their performance in that game.

Have no fear; the lone Knight is here.

Basketball

For the first time in its history, Holy Cross had an undefeated basketball team. The charging Knights compiled a 16-0 league record and an 18-0 over all record. At first, the school was not figured to run away with the title as the champions of division three of the tough CHSAA league. But with the good coaching from Mr. James Connors, and with plenty of determination and courage, the Knights defeated all contenders. Besides the great all around scoring and rebounding of Bob McIntyre, the fine defensive and passing plays of senior Jim Dougherty added much to the team's victories. The fine performances received from John Benik, also a senior, and Paul Sullivan, Mike Riordan, Joe Heather, and Denny Burke, all juniors, contributed quite heavily to the greatest season Holy Cross has had so far. Having been continually overwhelmed because of lack of height, the Knights offset this with courage and the unbelievable talents of Bob McIntyre.

Having been beset from the outset with all kinds of problems, coach Connors and his team forged on to complete their unmarred season.

HOLY CROSS 52 — FLUSHING 44

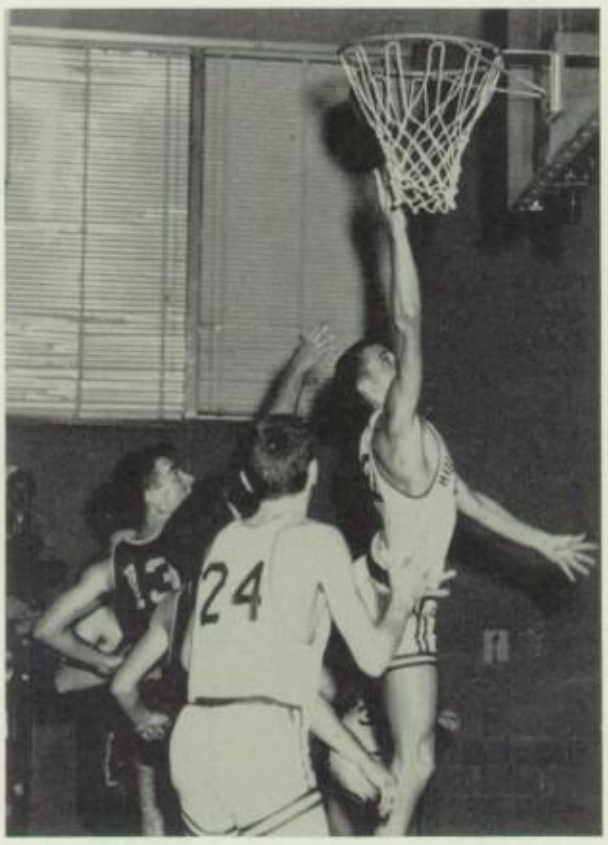
The first game of the season saw Holy Cross without two starters, Jim Dougherty and John Benik. But Holy Cross still beat its cross-town rival by 8 points with a 28 point harvest from Bob McIntyre. In this game we substituted freely since we were in the lead from the beginning.

HOLY CROSS 62 — CHAMINADE 55

In the first league game Holy Cross won a tight game over a tough Chaminade team, on the losers court. With 6-6 Bob McIntyre contributing 16 points in the first half, Holy Cross took a 36-25 lead. But Chaminade fought their way back by the shooting of Al Schwartz, and tied the game, 44 all. The cool head of Bob McIntyre and Paul Sullivan prevailed, and the Knights squeezed out a hard fought victory.

HOLY CROSS 98 — McCLANCY 59

Holy Cross had its first breather of the season in trouncing the hapless McClancy team. Bob McIntyre led all scorers with 22 points although not playing more than three quarters. Jim Dougherty was close behind with 21 points. Holy Cross fans were given a preview of the faith developing Holy Cross offensive which would provide the margins in the succeeding games.



HOLY CROSS 47—BROOKLYN PREP 39

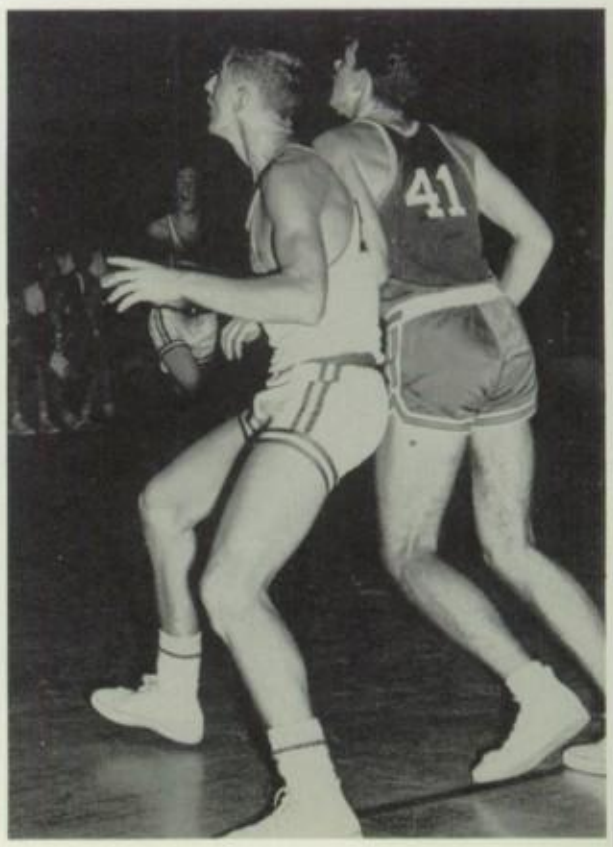
Holy Cross played its worst game of the season against the Prep on their own court. The Knights got off to a bad start and were losing 9 to 4 after the first quarter, and were down at the half by 4. But Holy Cross charged back after the half under the 11 point second half performance of Jim Dougherty and pulled a close one from the possession minded Eagles.

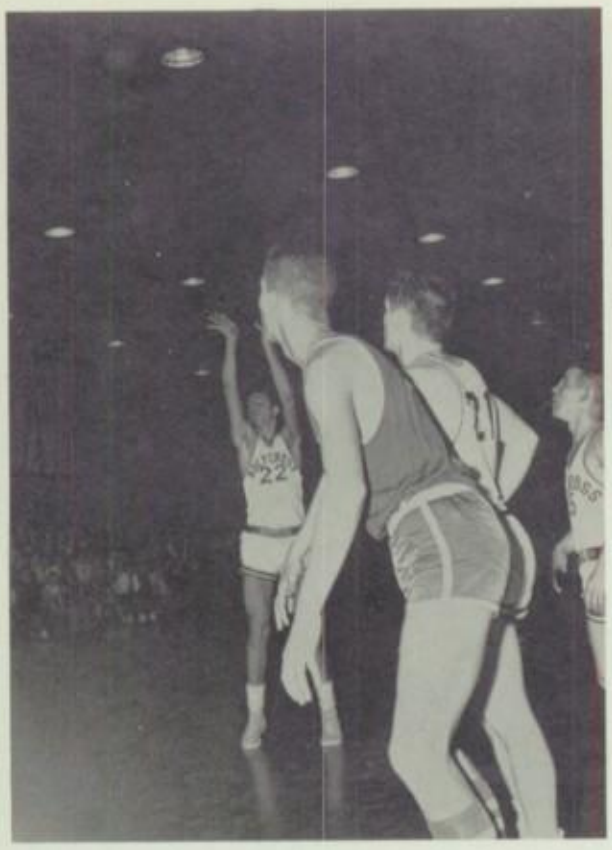
HOLY CROSS 49 — MOLLOY 45

In the biggest home game of the year and against the defending divisional champs, Molloy, Holy Cross showed some fine ball handling in breaking up the stout defense of the Stanners. Holy Cross took a 3 point lead at half-time and continued to build up the lead in a thrilling game. With Molloy concentrating on McIntyre the corners were wide open and the Knights, under the shooting of Joe Heather's 8 points in the 3rd quarter and Mike Reardern's 17 points took advantage of this and beat Molloy for the first time in two years.

HOLY CROSS 62 — ST. FRANCIS 60

With the Knights going into the game as a 10 point underdog St. Francis was expected to win by at least that much. At the end of the first half St. Francis was leading by 4. The Knights came back to take a ten point lead, but only to lose it with a minute left and then pull it out again on Bob McIntyre's two foulshoots. McIntyre scored 38 points and played his best game of the year.





HOLY CROSS 72 — FLUSHING 57

Holy Cross now with the replacements working well with the other starters, smythed Flushing for the second time this season. The Red Devils topped their division in the P.S.A.L. thus demonstrating the superiority of the Catholic league.

HOLY CROSS 67 — CATHEDRAL 36

In a repeat of the first game with Cathedral, Holy Cross swamped the bewildered opponents as Coach Connors substituted freely. The scoring was spread out evenly and, again, it was kept down.

HOLY CROSS 60 — LOUGHLIN 59

In the battle of the giants for supremacy in Brooklyn and Queens, Holy Cross again showed its great determination, drive and offensive and defensive prowess. The first half was nip and tuck until just before the half, when Loughlin scored two quick baskets to lead by 7 points. The Lions of Loughlin thought they had the game won, but once again the Knights came charging back. In the last few minutes of the game Jim Dougherty stole the ball 3 times and subsequently scored 3 baskets to put the Knights out ahead.

HOLY CROSS 62 — XAIVERIAN 49

Holy Cross bested Xaiverian of Brooklyn by 13 points in a game which was the great Bob McIntyre score 24 points and which also saw the last major obstacle to the Knights' undefeated season. In this game Holy Cross did not play up to par because the Loughlin game took something out of them.

HOLY CROSS 76 — TRINITY 41

In another home game, Holy Cross again showed its powerful offensive and joined it with Coach Connor's tough defensive, to turn the game into a rout. Bob McIntyre set a school record with a 40 point barrage, dazzling the fans with an assortment of jump shots, hooks and drives. Trinity was continually baffled by the 1-2-2 zone and couldn't break the 50 point mark.

HOLY CROSS 72 — McCLANCY 37

Playing for the first time at Madison Square Garden before a crowd which included 800 Holy Cross students, the Charging Knights racked the hapless McClancians. Bob McIntyre once again led all scoring with 21 points and helped out by the effort of Jim Dougherty (11) Sullivan (12) and Riardon (12) the Knights set an overall record of 18-0.

HOLY CROSS 66 — CATHEDRAL

Holy Cross completely out-classed Cathedral at the opponents' gym. The Knights started to rack up a huge lead before Coach Connors could remove his regulars. For the rest of the game Holy Cross struggled to keep the score down. Bob McIntyre again took the game's honors with a 26 point.

HOLY CROSS 68 — CHAMINADE 54

A weary Holy Cross five, playing its third game in 5 days. still managed to beat the Flyers by 14 points. Chaminade made it a close game for 2½ quarters when the Holy Cross basketball machine exploded the game wide open to lead by 20 points before the starters were sent to the showers. Bob McIntyre's 23 points along with 15 points apiece by Jim Dougherty and Paul Sullivan passed the winners.

HOLY CROSS 69 — ST. JOHNS 60

Pitted against big Art Stephenson, Bob McIntyre was expected to score well below the 26 point average and thus Holy Cross was expected to be stopped. Nevertheless, McIntyre scored 37 points to lead the Charging Knights to a nine point victory over the stubborn Redmen. As usual, Holy Cross played a better second half than first half which seemed to become a habit with them.

HOLY CROSS 49—BROOKLYN PREP 32

The possessioned-minded Eagles fought bitterly and arduously in their attempt to spoil the perfect record of Holy Cross and to pull themselves within two games of the league leading Knights. But Holy Cross fought just as hard as Brooklyn Prep and even harder. With the game tied at 25, Holy Cross reeled off ten straight points and applied a vice like zone dexterously to hold the Eagles to 32 points on a great team defensive effort.

HOLY CROSS 63 — ST. AUGUSTINE 57

The Holy Cross team was dealt a fatal blow when 2 starters were ineligible to play. Holy Cross was expected to fall from the ranks of the unbeaten and St. Augustine had a good chance to knock them off. Well, the Lancers threw a terrifying scare into Holy Cross with fantastic outside shooting but were offset by the steady play of the Knights.

HOLY CROSS 55 — MOLLOY 45

Holy Cross faced an uphill battle in beating Molloy on their court without 2 starters. However, their replacements, John Benik, and Denny Burke, together with the remaining stalwarts, Bob McIntyre, Jim Dougherty and Mike Reardan, played an admirable game and came from behind to beat the Stanners by ten points.

Track

This year at Holy Cross brought the harriers a new track coach, Brother Joseph Tate, C.S.C., along with a new varsity team. Richard Duggan, Michael Ferko, Theodore Folkman, Patrick Nash, Edward Lynch, and John McGown are the members of the Varsity Team.

They had quite a reputation to face left by last year's varsity team, who were the Eastern State Interscholastic Champions. The harriers this year have worked very hard trying to fill their predecessors' track shoes and ranked fifteenth in the East.

The best Cross-Country runner of the team this year is Richard Duggan who has won five medals for one first, two second, and two third places. He also placed sixth in the Eastern United States Championships.

Out of the usual three hundred and fifty runners our varsity have placed in the top fifty to finish.

In Track there are no cheerleaders and very few student body worshipers of the sport. Nevertheless, it may be said, even though the men of the team do not have these they are not lacking in the spirit of the school. For in the melange of schools at the start of each race Holy Cross may always be seen in the front of the pack.

Baseball

This season, Coach Larkin, had the advantage of many returning lettermen and some promising new hopefuls. The spring tryouts brought out a large number of potential Ty Cobbs, all hoping to gain a berth on the squad. Finally the team was selected and went into practice sessions after school and on Saturdays. Everyone dug into practice with the ferocity of a tiger. They all knew you couldn't have a winning season without practice. At times the weather hindered outdoor workouts so the team moved into the confines of the gym, giving the Brothers some worried moments when a few stray pitches sailed near some windows. But as training was completed and the team was about to enter its first game we were all confident of a winning season.

A group takes time out from the rides to enjoy some food and have their picture taken.

With the many activities around school the boat-ride is something we all look forward to.

With the fog lifting and the sun breaking through the clouds, "The Hudson Belle" steamed up the East River carrying the students of Holy Cross and Saint Agnes on their annual outing to Rye Beach.

Trinkets and prizes won, the spirit of Holy Cross proceeded to the rides and spent the rest of the day in a mass of whirls and twirls until all heads were spinning.

The return trip by boat is also something which will be remembered by all.

Our thanks go to Brother Francis Regis who, as in years past did so much work to make it all possible.
